From Editor's Desk

On behalf of Tantia University Journal of Homoeopathy and Medical Science. I am glad to present the Volume 3, Issue 1 of the journal. The journal established in October 2018 is now getting indexed by different academic forums. The aim of this journal is to meet the need for continuing medical education of the members, scholar and medical fraternity and to publish article of scientific excellence.

The latest threat to global health is the ongoing outbreak of the respiratory disease that was recently given the name Coronavirus Disease 2019 (Covid-19). Covid-19 was recognized in December 2019. In January 2020 the World Health Organization (WHO) declared the outbreak of a new coronavirus disease in Hubei Province, China to be a Public Health Emergency of International Concern. It was rapidly shown to be caused by a novel coronavirus that is structurally related to the virus that causes severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS). Covid-19 outbreak has posed critical challenges for the public health, research, and medical communities. A robust research effort is currently under way to develop a vaccine against Covid-19. Therapy currently consists of supportive care while a variety of investigational approaches are being explored. Every outbreak provides an opportunity to gain important information, some of which is associated with a limited window of opportunity. Still we are struggling from this disease there is no option for treatment in any medical stream. To debate which medical system is scientific or holistic might be only of academic interest. Every medical system has something to offer in health care. The public want a safe, effective and rational treatment.

We would like to thank all members of the Editorial Board, reviewers and all authors for support towards this journal.
