On behalf of Tantia University Journal of Homoeopathy and Medical Science and my co-editors, I am glad to present the Volume 2, Issue 4 of the journal. The journal established in October 2018 is now getting indexed in Euro Pub and also by different academic forums. The aim of this journal is to meet the need for continuing medical education of the members, scholar and medical fraternity and to publish article of scientific excellence.

There is frequent debate in different forum as to which of the medical system is superior in health care. The biomedical approach claim that it is only scientific medicine. There are several traditional health care approach practiced over centuries of which some of them are popular even today. Out of such traditional practice some have evolved, organised and developed into a system of medicine such as Ayurveda, Unani, Siddha, Homoeopathy, Chinese medicine etc. and few others emerged as drug less therapies such as yoga, Naturopathy, Osteopathy, Acupuncture etc. Traditional practices claim of consider the patient as a whole at the level of Mind- body relation and hypothesis that the disease are due to imbalances in humors or vital forces, energy etc. They call their practice as Holistic and claim to superior. To debate whether a medical system is scientific or holistic might be only of academic interest. Every medical system has something to offer in health care. The public want a safe, effective and rational treatment.

We would like to thank all members of the Editorial Board, reviewers and all authors for support towards this journal.
